DROPS
HE002D Pendant Lamp

Pendant lamp in the form of a tree branch with its derivations in the form of smaller branches, made of brass with the technique of casting to the lost wax as the ancient sculptures were manufactured. The similarity of the branches with a natural branch reaches the maximum perfection because they are small sculptures with the maximum detail and realism, manufactured by a sculptor. From the branches hang glass ornaments of different sizes simulating raindrops. We use the purity of the glass as an ornament for the small handmade glass sculptures that make drops. The set reaches a symbiosis between nature and artist that is reflected in the splendor of this piece.
